

KAY HUNTER'S BIOGRAPHY

Kay Hunter is a personal image coach and corporate trainer, specializing in complete makeovers, business and dining etiquette, and President of Imagine...The Possibilities in Orange County, California. She has transformed hundreds of clients into more successful and confident professionals.

Kay's goal is to help clients increase their self-confidence through enhancement of their personal presentation and visual appearance. She has worked with business executives, politicians, entrepreneurs, doctors, pageant competitors and mothers. Companies hire Kay to conduct image and business etiquette seminars for their employees, and to provide one-on-one consulting. Kay has the expertise to put people at ease while dealing with sensitive issues, and ultimately motivating people to be their best.

Prior to launching her company, Kay worked as a Senior Human Resources Executive for 15 years. She understands the challenges of dressing for business and how it directly affects a person's personal success and the bottom line of a company.

She was featured in a television documentary highlighting her work as a Success Coach and Personal Shopper with "Working Wardrobes Charity" in Orange County, California. Kay also is a regular contributing writer for the Orange County Register's Business Section, and has been quoted and featured in several local and national publications, including HR Executive Magazine, California Real Estate Magazine, OC Metro and Body Beautiful.

Kay is an active member of the Association of Image Consultants International (AICI). She has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology, and has been professionally trained by Louise Elerding, AICI, CIP - Image Industry Trainer, author and principle of Professional Image Partners.
